

Academic Calendar and Vacation Dates for Student Visa Holders who started in September 2026

To whom it may concern

This information should be used in conjunction with a personalised Confirmation of Studies letter to enable employers or other interested parties to determine a students vacation periods at Edinburgh Napier University whilst studying in the UK.

The information relating to work restrictions are indicative and does not constitute legal advice. Employers should follow guidance from their Human Resources department or immigration advisors if they are considering providing paid or unpaid work to a Student Visa holder.

Employers should please note that we cannot provide personalised letters for students.

The information below relates to students undertaking Postgraduate Study. The Confirmation of Studies letter (which the student should provide in combination with this information). The Confirmation of Studies Letter will confirm:

- Students' personal information such as full name, Edinburgh Napier number and date of birth.
- The date of the students first academic term of study upon starting their course.
- The end date - this refers to the conclusion of the student's final academic term prior to the release of their official results. (Students are not considered to have completed their studies until the official publication of results confirms this.)
- The students year and level of study

Important Note: If a student is required to undertake further study—such as resubmitting their dissertation—after the publication of their final results, restrictions on working will apply during periods when the student is expected to engage with their academic work.
